SWITZERLAND STIRRED BY VOROVSKY'S DEATH

HARVEY BACK HOME ON LONG VACATION

Knows Nothing About
Reports He Will
Resign Post

EXPECTS TO QUIT JOB SOME DAY

Denounces The Talk
Of British Hatred
For United States

(Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, May 11.—George Harvey, American Ambassador to Great Britain, declared upon his arrival on the steamship George Washington today that he knew nothing about reports that he had resigned or planned to resign in order to direct a campaign for the renomination and re-election of President Harding.

The ambassador said he saw no reason for affirming or denying the report of his resignation.

"Of course I expect to resign some day," he said. "Every ambassador to the Court of St. James, with one exception, has resigned—and he died.
But when I will resign I don't know."

Colonel Harvey's aide said he had accepted an invitation to sail back to England July 4 on the maiden trip of the reconditioned Leviathan.

Told of reports that he was to have a place in President Harding's cabinet if he were to be re-elected in 1924, Mr. Harvey smiled and said they were "interesting if true."

Asked for comment on the resolutions recently adopted by the New York and Massachusetts Legislatures, calling for his return on the ground that he was pro-British, Colonel Harvey said: "As far as my pro-British sentiments are concerned, I am an American, but I am not a damned fool."

He smiled when he was asked whether he planned to revive Harvey's Weekly for the presidential campaign of 1924, and said: "I have not engaged a printer yet."

Colonel Harvey said his present visit was the first leave of absence in two years. He was in the United States about two months ago, but came that time on official business.

Conditions in England, he said
are improving rapidly. Unemployment, he said, had been one of the chief reasons for the large British migration to the United States.
Many of them being farmers who were attracted by the high wages.

The ambassador denounced talk of British hatred for the United States as "preposterous," declaring the sentiment in England for the United States was more friendly than it had ever been.

David Lloyd George, former British premier, plans to come to the United States in the autumn, Colonel Harvey said.

Chester Concessions
European Circles

Comm. A. T. Chester
Admiral C. M. Chester

The reopening of the Turkish parley in Lausanne, Switzerland, is expected to be marked by great hostility toward the Angora Government because of its refusal to cancel the huge oil and railway concessions granted to Admiral Colby M. Chester, U. S. N. retired, and his son, Commander A. T. Chester. France is determined to open the question and is sure to receive the backing of England. The Turks report they are going to stand by the concessions.
The matter if left to stand practically places the United States in control of the new Turkey. The territory includes 2,400 square miles in Asia Minor, containing oils and minerals of vast fortune.

SCHOOL BOARD HAS REGULAR MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Albany School Board was held last night at the Morgan County Bank,
with the following members present:
J. L. Malone, chairman; John Patterson, J. H. Putnam, H. B. Beard and J. A. Tidwell.

The regular reports were considered and the usual business transacted.

Mr. Pound, representing the Batson-Cook Company, which is erecting the new high school building, appeared before the board and made a report on the progress of the work on the building. Mr. Pound assured the board that the building would be ready for occupancy by September 10.

Members of the board stated this morning that all concerned seemed to be pleased and satisfied with the progress now being made on the school building. The brick work is now being rushed, it was stated.

Some of the time of the board meeting last night was taken up with a discussion of ways and means for furnishing the new high school building
when it is completed.

POWER PROPERTY IN REVALUATION

(Associated Press.)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 11.—Revaluation of the properties of the Alabama Power Company, as set forth by the Alabama Public Service Commission for rate making purposes, is $29,000,000. A new rate to consumers will be based on the latest valuation, it was stated.

(Associated Press.)
PEKING, May 11.—J. A. Henley, of San Francisco, one of the Americans captured by the Chinese bandits in the train raid last Sunday, has been released, according to a dispatch which reports
his arrival at Lincheng.

Mr. Henley, it was added, declared that the bandits are in good health.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Chinese government officials have promised Jacob Gould Schurman, the American minister at Peking, that they "will consider a general policy for the extermination of bandits in China, as soon as the present situation growing out of the capture of Americans and foreign citizens by brigands in Shantung has been adjusted."

Governor Chi said that liberation of the foreigners held by the bandits was "expected at any time," and that the bandits would be paid a ransom
by the Chinese government.

Minister Schurman invited the serious attention of Governor Chi to further delay in relief of the captives, adding that "one day might cause the death of foreigners by starvation or by shooting, and an international complication might be precipitated by one such death."

The American minister reported that officials here hope for early relief of those held prisoner, but it was said that efforts in their behalf would not be relaxed. The State Department again was in communication with the Chinese legation and Dr. Alfred Sde, the Chinese minister who recently returned to his post after a long absence in China, had an engagement to see President Harding late in the day.

Hiss call was described as merely a courtesy visit, but it was taken for granted that the President would take occasion to reiterate that the American government looks to the authorities at Peking to hasten release of the captives.

ALABAMA BRIEFS

(Associated Press.)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 11.—
Montgomery city schools and colleges are preparing for the closing exercises that will take place this month.
Woman's College and Margaret Booth School will each graduate the largest classes of young women in the history of their institutions, it is said, while Sidney Lanier High School senior class tops the 200 mark.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 11.— Birmingham will find thousands of public school children out on their vacation within the next fortnight, with all the principal schools already preparing for the examinations. Central, Woodlawn and Ensley are the principal city high schools with approximately 700 seniors graduating from the three schools, while Simpson School, preparatory to Birmingham Southern College and Jefferson County High School, will swell the total near the thousand mark.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 11.—
With but two months away before the opening of the long session of the Alabama Legislature, committees are busy rushing their activities in preparation for the summer session. Educational committees and that of the code revision have been unusually active of late as well as the working of the committee on agriculture.

MOBILE, Ala., May 11.—Elaborate preparations for entertainment of the Alabama and Mississippi press associations, which meet here during the latter part of the present month, are being made. Boating, luncheons, automobile tours and dinners will play an important part in the entertainment program, it is said by those in charge of local arrangements.

THE WEATHER
FOR ALABAMA—Local showers
and thunderstorms late tonight or Saturday; warmer tonight, increasing southerly winds becoming fresh to strong.

LEGION MEMBERS ENJOY BARBECUE

Great Gathering Held
By Ex-Fighters At Linger Longer

FEAST SPREAD IN TRUE ARMY STYLE

Picturesque Home Of Post Commander Is
Scene Of Meeting

The social meeting of the Morgan County Post of the American Legion, an event looked forward to with much interest and pleasure for weeks,
was held last night at "Linger Longer Lodge," the home of Judge Thomas W.
Wert, commander of the post.

The central attraction and chief feature of the gathering outside of the pleasant associations of friends and comrades in the great war was the bountiful dinner served to the some 75 people present.

Since early in the morning of the evening of the feast, well-known local experts on the barbecue and Brunswick stew were busy cooking the lamb,
pork and chicken on slow fires in low pits dug near the lodge.

The feast was not spread until every mother's son of the Legion boys and their guests had arrived, which was close to 8 o'clock.

The specially invited guests included many local people who had been of such great service to the Legion when the recent minstrel was put on at the Princess Theater.

A number of guests arrived before dark, their secret intention being to get a look at the gardens and live stock at the lodge. Judge Wert was at home—where he had been all day—
making preparations for his numerous guests, and showed his pigeons, goats, porkers and the garden and last and most important of all, his numerous pens of chickens—White Leghorns being the predominating breed.

An interesting member of the stock family was a large billy goat that seemed to be of a very sensitive and nervous temperament. Whenever he was approached, even at a distance, the goat's hinder parts and legs would stiffen up and he would move away evidently with much difficulty; but after he had gained a safe distance he would unlimber in fine style.

While the early arrivals were waiting for the rest of the boys—it was a stag affair throughout—the conversations turned continually to the coming feast, which was spread or rather placed on a high table near the lodge building—a gentle hint that the diners were to stand; and to deliver the food to themselves in true
army style.

There was hot black coffee, with cream and sugar, used by many to hurry down generous portions of food;
there was one large dish of mutton barbecue and a similar one, filled with a pork meat and there was the Brunswick stew—a great favorite, despite the fact its preparation was an afterthought.

Beautiful Tribute To Mother Is Paid By Rev. Mundy at Kiwanis Club Meet

In his address to the Kiwanis Club yesterday Rev. T. G. Mundy paid the following beautiful tribute to mothers:

"The most lasting and effectual tie which binds one human to another is love. Without it all of our actions would be no more than a plain business proposition. It would be a plain matter of duty with us, which, without the warmth of love, would be cold
and lifeless. 'Love,' says the Apostle Paul, 'worketh no ill to his neighbor, therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.'"

"In this world many ties are formed through love. There is the love which exists between man and wife;
there is the love which a father has
for his children; there is the tie which exists between children of the same family; there is a love which binds us to our friends and neighbors. But the greatest love which exists between human beings is a mother's love for her child. God needed help to show us His love so He gave us mothers.
It must have been a happy hour in

Hospital Drive Is Nearing Goal

Energy and enthusiasm is being put into the financial campaign now in progress for the Benevolent Hospital, and reports
sent in are very encouraging.

One team alone now working on Second avenue has secured pledges enough to insure as much as $500, if not more for the hospital. One of the workers was asked what amount had been set as Albany's share of the fund, and he replied: "We have not set any particular goal, but we think every cent that can be secured will be needed by the hospital."

Reports from outlying places are encouraging. Falkville alone has made a contribution of $100 up to the present.

The Decatur committee is to have a meeting this afternoon, according to a statement by J. W. Clopton, who is taking part in the canvass for the hospital among the business men.

Mr. Clopton stated that none were refusing to contribute to the proposed fund and that he had every reason to believe that the entire amount sought would be secured.

The Decatur committee will probably make an active canvass tomorrow.

H. M. Priest, who is the Albany chairman, stated this morning that a committee meeting of workers for the hospital fund would meet at the Morgan County Bank this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Mr. Matthews, chairman for the L.
& N. shops, has not yet made any report, but it can be counted as a certainty that he will be able to secure large numbers of generous subscriptions from the shopmen.

TERSE NOTE SENT BERLIN BY ENGLAND

(Associated Press.)
LONDON, May 11.—Brevity and incisiveness are the features of Great Britain's newest note to Germany on the reparations question, which is now complete. The document, consisting of two typewritten pages, avoids technical details, points out in simple language the inadequacy from the British viewpoint, of Germany's proposals and urges her to try again.

The note probably will be delivered to the German ambassador here tomorrow or Sunday, copies meantime being transmitted to France and Belgium, as an act of courtesy.

BAPTISMAL SERVICE

At the Central Baptist Church on Sunday morning the 11 o'clock hour of worship will be taken for a baptismal service, according to a statement by Dr. Reaves, the pastor. A number are to be baptized who professed conversion at the recent revival
at this church.

Dr. Reaves will preach as usual
Sunday night.

Boston Woman Resents Disloyalty Charge

Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead, of Brookline, Mass., a Boston suburb, president of the Society for the Promotion of Peace, strongly resented being called a "disloyal citizen" by Major-General Mark L. Hersey, General Hersey said that Mrs. Mead, in an address to the school children of Brookline, declared that the American flag was "a rag, painted red, white and blue."

MONEY PAID OVER ON ROAD CONTRACT

Eyster & Eyster on yesterday afternoon paid over $44,000 to Callahan &
Harris, money of the American Surety Company, of New York City, to satisfy a judgment in the well-known case of this county and the State Highway Department against the bondsmen of J. M. Wolfe & Sons.

The money received by Callahan &
Harris will be paid over to Morgan County and to the State Highway Department.

It will be recalled that J. M. Wolfe & Sons had their contract annulled some two years ago because they did not finish a certain strip of road in this county by the time they had agreed to do so.

Later the highway departments of the state and county built the road.
The money secured from the American Surety Company will be used to replace money spent by these departments in completing the Wolfe project.

Local Girl Ends Study of Missions

Miss Alice Stockton, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. I. Stockton, of the Twin Cities, has returned from Louisville where she was one of the three Alabama girls to graduate from the mission study department of the Bas-ist Theological Seminary at Louisville, after taking a three years' course.

Miss Stockton, some time ago, volunteered for foreign missionary service in her church and has now finished the prescribed course required by the foreign missionary board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The other two Alabama girls to complete the same course as did Miss Stockton are Misses Agnes Durant and Willie Kelly Wooley.

These three young women, at graduation, were each presented by the Woman's Missionary Union of Alabama with a beautiful gold pin in token of their high achievement.

Miss Mabel Williams, a relative of Dr. J. O. Williams, of Athens, and of T. E. Williams, of the Twin Cities, has been promoted to the senior class
in the same school from which Misses Stockton, Wooley and Durant graduated.

Miss Stockton is highly esteemed here and has a host of friends who bid her a hearty welcome home.

BOLSHEVIST CHIEF KILLED IN HOTEL

Courier's Assassination
Arouses Nation As Trouble-Maker

FEAR FELT FOR SWISS IN RUSSIA

Conradi Says Acted Entirely Alone To Obtain Revenge

(Associated Press.)
LAUSANNE, May 11.—Apprehension for the safety of the Swiss residents of Russia, numbering about 800, is expressed both by the public and the press in consequence of M. Vorov-sky's assassination.

When Vorovsky attacked the Swiss government because the Bolshevik courier from Moscow was refused a visa by the Swiss minister in Berlin, it was announced that no official action would be taken against him, as the Swiss government was anxious to avoid endangering Swiss business men, who went to Russia to reopen
trade relations.

The police today declared that they were not obliged to give special protection to Vorovsky as he was not an official delegate to the conference, but that nevertheless the chief of police only a few days ago visited him and asked if he desired protection. This offer Vorovsky declined, it is said.

The murder of Vorovsky, head of the Russian soviet delegation to the Near East conference, by Alexander Conradi, a Swiss, who also served in the Russian army, has red Switzerland as the scene
since the assassination of Emperor Elizabeth, of Austria, at Monza in 1898.

Conradi, who was seized by the police in the Hotel Cecil after he had killed Vorovsky and wounded two attaches of the Russian delegation, continues to maintain that he acted alone in an effort to avenge his father and uncle for the mistreatment they received at the hands of the Bolsheviks
during the "red terror."

The general impression in the Near East conference circles is that the excitement caused by last evening's event will not directly affect the course of the negotiations, because Vorovsky was not regarded as an official Russian delegate, inasmuch as the soviet government was not invited to participate in the proceedings.

Switzerland, however, keenly feels the position in which Conradi's act places her and fears that world opinion may hold local patriotic associations morally of materially responsible inasmuch as the Swiss fascist organization recently ordered Vorovsky to leave the country or take the consequences.

Found Guilty On Charges of Arson

General Change In Textbooks Not To Be Made Now

No general change will be made in text books used in Alabama public schools for the ensuing year, ac-ucation. Only one adoption was recommended by the committee

and that was physiology and hygiene.

ernment, have received a telegram from the skipper, Neilson, stating that he has been released by the Bolsheviks and now is at a Norwegian port expecting to sail homeward.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.

MOTHERS DAY.

Mother's Day is soon to be observed, a day when the thoughts instinctively turn to the mothers living and dead, who now or during their lives, wove into the fabric of every son and daughter that spirit of fidelity and long suffering love which has survived the wrecks of all ages, and stands today as the one towering peak in a world of things soon forgotten.

Mother love. What a wealth of meaning in those two words. At the mention of her name how the heart wells up and throbs with a deep sense of gratitude as the mind harks back to the time of childhood, and in a small way recounts the thousands of things of which they have been the recipients, in that way which only a mother could impart them.

Time and distance are never any barriers to this one pure and unadulterated attribute which has made the name of mother the one sacred word that clings to the individual, and makes known to them in unmistakable terms that in every condition of life, in adversity as in prosperity; when the clouds gather and dispel the brightness of the day, it is she who can see through the mists which abound, and pulsing out from her great throbbing heart, the golden thread of love finds its way to her children wherever they may abound, and forgetting her own burdens and cares, she carries those of her children on her heart as long as life holds.

When other watchers have been forced to leave because eye lids refuse to obey the will and close over tired optics, there is always one who lingers and when hope has all but fled, she gathers up the tangled threads and weaves them so deftly in the loom of love and almost super-humanity is enabled to augment the flagging energy, demonstrating that love can supercede energy and muscle and bears up when stronger ones are forced to retire.

She climbs to the highest peaks of difficulties and when others desert, it is she who stands by and strokes the cheek of her child in the same old way, it matters not how much that child has violated the law of the land or of God, and stands out in a class to herself, as the one supreme mortal of earth who endures all things, suffers all things for the sake of charity; for charity is love.

VALUABLE OBJECT LESSON.

Those who heard Miss Evelyn Peyton, Madison County Home Demonstration agent when she spoke here some weeks ago, of her work, will never forget the profound impression the woman made. The highest point in her address was her claim that the courses of instruction given the farm girls of Madison County and the aid rendered the farm women, was worth more times the money spent for it than any other investment she had made.

It will be recalled by many that Miss Peyton invited all the people of the county to come to Huntsville when the annual short course for farm girls was given. Miss Peyton has now issued the program for this course which lasts for two days, May 23-24.

Just as Miss Peyton said here, free entertainment is given the girl members of the club by citizens of Huntsville during their two days' stay in the city. According to the official program the girls are chaperoned by the ladies of Huntsville; free medical attention is given them in case of illness during their stay; free picture shows are provided; free ice cream and free amusements, etc. Prizes are given to the individual girls who sew the best, raise the best chickens, know the most about gardening and the like.

The short course school, which is a kind of conference of all the girl members of the Home Demonstration led by competent teachers—is to open with a parade on the afternoon of May 23.

In this parade all members of the clubs are to wear the same kind of hats, and simple and plainly made dresses. Whichever club has the largest number of members present is to have the honor of leading the parade.

Every hour of the day and of the evenings, is chock full of something for the benefit and interest of the farm girls and women, according to the program.

All the hen eggs available are to be brought into town from the country on the two days of the convention, to show and to be sold later to help defray the expenses of the convention.

A number of prominent workers for better farm conditions in Madison are down on the two days program for addresses.

Those interested greatly in providing a home demonstration service for the farm girls and women of Morgan County are hoping that as many people as possible of this county will attend the Madison County Short Course, and especially the members of the county board of revenue are urged to attend.

It is common knowledge that the effort to secure a home demonstration agent for Morgan County has never been given up and never will be given up until victory crowns the efforts of the well wishers of the farmers and their families in every part of the county.

Between the burning of Rome and the fiddling of Empero Nero, the former was doubtless the lesser of the two evils.

We think we have a mighty fast world, but scientists say some of the really big spheres go at the rate of over 500 mile sa second.

The great people come from dreamland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Circuit Court, Morgan County, Alabama. In Equity:
MAGGIE M. CERASARO

vs.
MICHAEL CERASARO.
In this cause it appears to the Register, from the affidavit of complainant, that defendant, Michael Cerasaro, is a non-resident of Alabama, age of 21 years, and that his residence and postoffice address are unknown, after diligent effort to learn the same. It is therefore ordered by the Register that publication be made once a week for four consecutive weeks in The Albany-Decatur Daily, a newspaper published in Morgan County, requiring said defendant to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by June 10, 1923, or in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him. This may 10, 1923.

MARVIN WEST, Register.
May 11 18 25 June 1

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE

The undersigned, under and by authority and order of the Probate Court of Morgan County, Alabama, will, on the 11th day of June, 1923 between the hours of 12 o'clock noon and 4 o'clock p. m. offer for sale the following described real estate, situated in Morgan County, Alabama, to-wit:

East half of northeast quarter, Section 14, Township 8, Range 3 West, containing 80 acres.

Three and one-half acres south of Mill Creek, and evenly on the east side of west half of northeast quarter, Section 14, Township 8, Range 3 West. 20 acres on the north side of the southeast quarter of Section 14, Township 8, Range 3 West, bounded on the north by the property of J. D. Cook and John M. McCormack; on the south and west by property of C. S. Chenault, and on the east by property of A. G. Patterson.

West half of southwest quarter of southwest, quarter of Section 11, Township 8, Range 3 West.

54 acres on the east side of southeast quarter less 1 acre for the pike, Section 10, Township 8, Range 3 West, being bounded on the north by the lands of J. C. Tidwell; on the south by lands of C. A. Alsabrook; on the west by lands of H. D. Cole, J. D. Cook and J. F. Bean.

Said sale to take place in front of the courthouse door, in Decatur, Ala., and will be on the following terms:

All cash, or if better prices may be realized, then the same may be sold for one-third cash, one-third in one year and one-third in two years, deferred payments to be secured by first mortgage on property sold, with provision in the mortgage for sale in case of default in any part of the purchase money.

The several tracts of land above described will first be offered separately, and then as a whole, and the way they bring the most will be considered as the sale made, sale subject to confirmation.

NOTICE OF SALE OF FERRY-BOATS

Circuit Court, Morgan County, Alabama. In Equity:
J. S. WALKER

vs.
F. E. Pitts.

Under and by virtue of a decree rendered May 9, 1923, in the above styled cause by the said Circuit Court, in Equity, I will proceed on Monday, May 21, 1923, within the legal hours of sale, at the ferry landing in Albany, Alabama, where the Somerville road, as extended, reaches the Tennessee river, to sell at public outcry to the highest bidder, for cash, a certain gasoline boat, known as the "Pitts-Walker boat," and the steamer "John D. Wyker," together with two barges, part of the equipment of the said steamer. This property will be sold free of all liens. It will be offered for sale as a whole and also separately, and will be sold in that manner that brings the most money.

Witness my hand this Register of said Court, this May 10, 1923.

Beautiful Los Angeles Woman Gives Tanlac Credit for Health

MRS. FLORA B. RUSSELL

The wonderful powers of the Tanlac treatment are again very forcefully demonstrated. This time in the case of Mrs. Flora B. Russell, highly accomplished and esteemed resident of 2 N. Orange St., Clendale, Cal. She says:

"At the time I commenced taking Tanlac I was suffering from anemia and a nervous, run-down condition. My stomach was so disordered that everything I ate would bother me and at times I couldn't retain even a glass of water. I thought I would never be myself again.

"But Tanlac just suited by case, for since taking it I feel as well as I ever did. I have actually gained 20 pounds in weight and I sleep like a child every night. I believe Tanlac will help anyone suffering like I did."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Eddie Meehan, a typical 14-year-old schoolboy, has been selected Mayor of New York City for one day, as one of the features of Boy in the world's largest city. Other youths are to be heads of all the departments.

The Younger Generation.
"Ah! said the old countryman sadly, somewhat muddled by conventional grief and the beer he was sipping, 'I be just come from purrin' my poor old father; he was 95, he were—I only be seventy-four last Christmas. We don't live to them old ages nowadays.'—London Morning Post.

Deeply Touched.
"I'm considered a hard man," remarked Mr. Grumpson, "but when a motorist slows up long enough to enable me to alight from a trolley car and reach the curb without leaning for my life I feel like throwing around and taking my hat off to him."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Refinished Floor.
If a painted or varnished floor be refinished, it should first be thoroughly scrubbed, and after it has come perfectly dry, should be sandpapered and then wiped with cloth dampened with turpentine gasoline, in order to remove the caused by the use of the sandpaper.

GLAND TRANSPLANTATION NOW USED BY JAPAN TO PUT AGED INFIRM BACK AT WORK! HIGH CLASS GOAT PRICES SOAR

BRINKLEY HOSPITAL, MILFORD, KANSAS

Goat gland transplantation has been made compulsory in Japan by the government, in order to rejuvenate aged charity patients in its institutions and enable them to return to self-supporting work. Within the past few months more than 1,000 of these inmates have undergone the operation and are again earning their own living. Japan is the first nation to take official cognizance of the possibilities of gland transplantation. Two of its foremost surgeons were sent to the United States where they were taught how to perform the operation by its originator, Dr. John R. Brinkley, chief surgeon of the Brinkley-Jones hospital at Milford, Kansas.

The future of gland transplantation holds great possibilities and the scope of its effectiveness is being steadily extended. Properly performed, which includes transplantation and blocking of the gland and transplantation of an artery and nerve, the process not only rejuvenates physically, but mentally as well, while paralysis, diabetes, hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure and even that form of insanity known as dementia praecox yield readily to it.

The operation has also been known to produce unanticipated results, some patients being enabled to discard their glasses because of improved eyesight, while others found themselves growing new heads of hair, due to increased stimulation of the hair glands.

Transplantation has resulted in the development of a new type of goat, hornless and odorless, and high prices are paid for particularly desirable specimens. These range from $1,200 to $1,500 and the glands of their progeny are used in the operation.

Claims that goat gland transplantation is a cure-all or panacea for all the ills of mankind are denied by Dr. Brinkley, who says that in more than 3,000 operations performed at his Milford hospital and in the larger cities of the country, he has found it effective in twenty-seven types of disease, but that there are many maladies, including tuberculosis and cancer, not curable by transplantation.

Come and see the Hospital Saturday. Encourage the ladies! —Adv. 1t.

Decatur on Batting Spree Wallops Cullman County High School 10-1

Bunching their hits in two innings, the second and fifth, the Decatur High School yesterday concocted a steaming 10 to 1 defeat of Cullman County High on the local diamond. Ezell breezed through the game handily, never being in danger, and whiffing 15 invaders.

Cullman made mistake of bringing only one pitcher here, King, who let St. Bernard down with four hits recently. He was no puzzle to Decatur, however, and was driven from the mound, Shortstop Webber taking up the hurling role, only to relinquish it again to King in the eighth inning. It was the first time in baseball history here that a pitcher, taken out once, was put back in the box. It was perfectly permissible, only unusual.

The Decatur team was on a hitting spree and it is doubtful that half a dozen twirlers would have stemmed the tide once it was under way. Every man on the team clouted safely, filling up a total of 15 safe ones, including a home run by Collier, a triple by Callahan, and doubles by Ezell and Odom.

A wild pitch in the first cost Ezell a shut out, Williamson scoring in the first on a wild chuck past Connally, a moment before Webber whiffed for the third out.

thought, according to Judge Wert. Following the meal and before it the interior of the handsome lodge house was fested with a jolly crowd of ex-fighters, but who last night were in anything else but a fighting mood.

On the walls of the lodge appeared an allied helmet—the one worn by the owner of the place in the hot Argentine fight, when he received part of the wounds credited him in the war records.

As to all others who were wounded in action, a picture made by the government was presented to Judge Wert and it appeared near his iron helmet. This picture represented Columbia posed in blessing over a kneeling soldier. Opposite the allied helmet was a mute reminder of the vanquished foe, one of the spiked helmets of the autocratic powers that went down in defeat.

Judge Wert picked up the spiked helmet followed the battle in the Argentine forest.

The guests remained—many of them well on toward bedtime, and many others excused themselves earlier in the evening pleading business engagements—but one and all went away wondering "when we shall meet again"—and have another great feast and big time."

MANY DRAMATIC SCENES

There followed the rumble of huge fragments falling to the ground; after that—silence.

This is the dramatic finish of the Fox production, "Boss of Camp Four," starring Charles Jones, which will be shown at the Star Theater for one day, starting Friday. The events that precede the incident are even more exciting.

Charles Jones is gagged and bound within 100 yards of a tunnel containing blasting powder used in road construction. Inside the excavation is a man who has gone to examine the explosives. Although he sees all these things, Jones, in the character of Chet Fanning, seems helpless. The man supervising the blasting orders the hole closed, preparatory to igniting the powder.

Jones finally frees himself and—but that is the story. It is filled with interest and action. There is a love theme, too. If you like stirring tales of the outdoors, here is a narrative that should satisfy your need for entertainment. Judging from this star's previous pictures, his latest offering, reported to be even more engrossing, should provide an enjoyable evening.

Its Worth is Proven—You May Have It Now

A new chemical product was introduced to the world by a famous European doctor, who had labored for years in its perfection. But he finally achieved a remedy for pain, for colds and fevers, which was more rapid in action and more certain than any other. And best of all—it could be given freely to persons with weak hearts and to those who could not tolerate such remedies as aspirin, phenacetin and quinine.

This new remedy was prescribed extensively in the great hospitals throughout Europe. It proved its worth in thousands of successful cases. It could be relied upon when all else had failed. During epidemics of influenza it was a most trustworthy aid. And for quick and sure relief for almost all pain, nerve or muscular, it was unsurpassed.

Now this discovery has been placed within your reach. It is being manufactured in America and has been placed on sale at all druggists. Ask for Kozol. It comes in tablet form.

Eat Kellogg's Bran regularly to get permanent relief from constipation!

Freedom from constipation, mild or chronic, can be surely looked for if you will eat Kellogg's Bran every day! Two tablespoonfuls are sufficient; for severe cases with each meal.

Kellogg's Bran is nature's most wonderful food awaiting a chance to bring back your health. Kellogg's Bran is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humbly from constipation and it will do that.

Being cooked and crumbled, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nut-like flavor. It should not be confused with common bran which is unpalatable and hard to eat. Kellogg's Bran adds greatly to the pleasure of eating other hot or cold cereals. A popular way to serve Kellogg's Bran is to cook it with hot cereals. In preparation, add two tablespoonfuls of Bran for each person, mixing it with the cereal to be cooked.

Kellogg's Bran is especially delicious in raisin bread, muffins, pancakes, macaroons, etc. Recipes appear on each package.

Realize what Kellogg's Bran is doing for constipation sufferers all over the nation, then just think what it can do for you and yours. The horrors to come should guide you to eat bran regularly, to serve it in some form each day.

You can drive constipation out of your family with Kellogg's Bran—and remove the cause of 90% of human illness! First-class hotels and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant. All grocers.

Albany Continues Winning Streak By Taking Moulton Team Into Camp, 13-10

Albany high school added another game to their string of victories when they took the heavy hitting team from Moulton into camp yesterday afternoon by the score of 13 to 10. The locals got to Harris in the first inning, scoring a run on a walk by Brisby and hits by Burns and Pepper. Four hits, a walk, errors in the third accounted for four more, which put the game on ice, although Albany scored in each inning except the eighth. Handy retired the Moulton outfit in the first on four pitched balls, but they got to him in the second for four runs. He turned on the steam after the second and retired the visitors in order in the third, fourth and fifth. With a commanding lead he eased up, allowing two runs in the sixth, but the visitors could do nothing with him in the next two innings.

In the ninth Moulton scored four on one hit and bad judgment of the Albany infield. They filled the bases on two hits and an error and made their runs on taps to the infield.

The features were the fielding by Pepper, Maness and Brisby and the heavy hitting by both teams.

A Higher Plane.

Infinite toil would not enable you to sweep away a mist, but by ascending a little, you may often look over it altogether. So it is without moral improvement, we wrestle fiercely with a vicious habit, which would have no hold upon us if we ascended into a higher moral atmosphere.—Sir Arthur Helps.

That Was Different.

"My husband has rooms at his mother's house," said a woman to an English magistrate, "and as I object to living with relatives I would not go there. He can come and live with me." "Quite right," said the magistrate. "Where are you living?" "With my mother!"

How Come.

The phrase, "Home come?" often pronounced "hucome," has long been used in certain parts of the South as a synonym for why. When someone asked Simon, the village simpleton, why he used the word he replied: "Hucome you ax me hucome I say hucome?"—Youth's Companion.

GREAT "GOLD BLUFFS" HOAX

Reported Finding of Yellow Metal Caused Intense Excitement in San Francisco in 1851.

To San Francisco in January, 1851, came a tale that set even its excitement-jaded pulses a-throb. Briefly, 19 prospectors had proceeded in the steamer Chesapeake toward the Klamath river, and near this stream the sea shore for miles was composed—half, at least—of pure gold, writes Eugene Cunningham in Adventure Magazine.

Digging was not required. One had only to raise as much as he wished of the golden sand from the beach. Small wonder that San Francisco went mad. Night vessels prepared to sail for "Gold Bluffs."

Then the bottom dropped out. It was rumored first that the gold was mixed with black and gray sands; that because of its exceeding fineness it could not be separated from the sand. Worse still, the sea washed through huge piles of collected sand and flood-tide brought none of it back. Working "Gold Bluffs" promised a reversal of ordinary mining—gold went into, instead of coming out of, the ground. So the greatest excitement of the decade was done. But it was a "thriller" while it lasted.

FELT THE BISHOP WAS SAFE

Woman's Apprehensions Disappeared With Her Increasing Confidence in the Small Boy.

When Phillips Brooks, the great "low church" bishop of Massachusetts, made his visitation at the Church of the Advent, Boston, celebrated for its elaborate ritual, the rector considerably inquired if the bishop would like the usual services simplified.

"Oh, no," was the reply. "Turn everything on!"

A young but well-trained acolyte was told to attend the bishop, and before the towering figure paced, with impressive dignity, the small red-casocked lad.

A lady, who knew and admired Phillips Brooks, but knew little of ritual, regarded the situation at first with anxious face, but soon became serene. On leaving the church after service, she remarked:

"In the beginning I was dreadfully afraid the bishop would not know where to go or what to do, but I felt perfectly safe about him when I saw that little boy knew a great deal more about it all than the bishop did, and was taking good care of him."—Harper's Magazine.

Wonderful Physical Development.

On the high Andean plateau in Bolivia live dwarfs with the chests of giants. These men are Bolivian Indians, and living as they do at a height of 12,000 to 14,000 feet above sea level, they have developed immense lung power to enable them to breathe properly in the rarefied air of those regions.

This Man Intends to Keep It in the House

"In May or June, 1913, I sent to you and got four bottles which were worth many dollars to me. They enabled me to go to work again. I had lost 40 pounds, but these 4 bottles of May's Wonderful Remedy for stomach trouble gained back all I had lost and I feel like a new man since. I shall keep it in the house all the time." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. By druggists everywhere.—Adv.

BANKING POWER OF THE UNITED STATES

How the United States has come to control fifty per cent of the Banking power of the world, and what this extraordinary expansion means.

seasons and it is far more convenient and inexpensive for him to borrow this money at interest when he needs it than to keep it in hand for the few comparatively brief periods of the year in which he needs it for current operations. Other producers of domestic materials, the mines, the forests, the fisheries, find it necessary to borrow at certain seasons of the year when the demands upon them are above normal; the railroad and other transportation facilities must borrow at times to meet the unusual demands upon them in traffic activities, needs for new rolling stock, and increased compensation for employees.

In manufactures, however, perhaps more than in any single industry borrowing the use of money obtained by temporary loans, is an absolute requirement of successful business. Raw materials, which are largely the product of the farm and mine, must be bought, chiefly at home but considerable quantities abroad, workmen must be paid with promptness and regularity, manufactures turned out must be warehoused and await opportunity to sell at favorable rates, and all these features in the activities of the manufacturing industries require large sums of capital and supplemented by still larger sums in the form of loans at certain periods of the year's activities.

Banking Power and Industry

With the life blood which loans have given to these industries, the United States has become the greatest manufacturer and greatest exporter of the world. The people who habitually borrow such proportion of their financial requirements as circumstances may suggest, know the processes by which loans can be made from the banking power, on stocks, bonds, or other similar securities, notes, "acceptances," etc., and so the flow of money into and out of the banks keeps the wheels of industry and business moving.

Even this vast "banking power" of $48,000,000,000 and actual loans and discounts of something more than $30,000,000,000 do not by any means measure the total value of all the circulating media of various sorts constantly passing from hand to hand among the people of the United States. This real circulating medium includes the checks, drafts and other pieces of paper by which business men transfer from hand to hand their claims on the wealth deposited in the banks of the country for only an extremely small part of the actual business transactions in the United States are represented by actual cash.

If a bank makes a loan to an individual based on his note or other security it seldom happens that the actual cash but informs him that the sum in question stands to his credit in the bank and he may check against it as he may desire. He draws checks in the currency of the various sums which he desires to pay, sends them through the mails, and the recipient at his convenience passes them into the hands of his own bank or utilizes them in making payments in his own business transactions, and when they get back to the bank on which they were drawn several days later they are charged against the balance created by the loan and represent just that amount of business transacted. In very recent years in which banks have multiplied and the use of the telephone and automobile has put the farmer in close touch with the city and the business, the use of the check in the agricultural regions has greatly increased.

Importance of Credit Currency

The bigger the transaction the more certain it is that it will be temporarily represented by a check or other "credit instrument." Even these checks when they finally reach the bank on which they were drawn are not usually paid in cash but passed to the "clearing house" in which the claims of the various banks at which they were deposited are offset by those of the bank on which they were originally drawn, and the mere difference supplied in cash.

So it turns out that an extremely large percentage of the actual day-to-day business of the country is transacted by the use of checks, drafts, bills of exchange and other forms of "credit currency" and a very small per cent in actual cash. Studies made by the United States Comptroller of the Currency twenty-five years ago indicated that apparently 90 per cent of the transactions in the cities and larger towns then occurred in the form of credit currency and it is probable that the proportion is now much larger, perhaps 95 per cent.

Since the outbreak of the war there has been an enormous increase in the use of credit which has resulted in more or less inflation throughout the entire world. It has not increased "wealth," but has lent itself to the increase of banking power. Through all of this, the position of the United States has been sound, and today we represent approximately 50 per cent of the banking power of the world, as against 27 per cent in 1870.

The use of this "credit currency" consisting of checks and other pieces of paper utilized in the payment of day-to-day transactions of the country, forms an extremely "liquid" currency which readily adjusts itself to the daily activities of business, and as the life of the check is at the best but brief and its place taken by others representing other similar transactions, the total of the sum thus represented may be not improperly designated as a huge "revolving fund" fluctuating in size and speed of movement from day to day and season to season but representing in these days them this wealth is directed by loans into channels of usefulness. It is brought together in small and large quantities from all classes of persons who do not immediately need it and who do not have the facilities to loan it directly.

America's Banking Power

The "banking power" whose usefulness is thus multiplied by the credit instruments above referred to is far greater in the United States than in any other country. Mitchell puts the banking power of the United States in 1870 at $2,141,000,000, out of an estimated world total of $7,900,000,000, our total at that time being slightly less than that of the United Kingdom but vastly more than that of any other single country. By 1920 our total was, according to the same authority, $5,012,000,000, and slightly exceeded that of Great Britain; while Webb, in his Dictionary of Statistics, puts the world's total in 1908 at $45,500,000,000, of which $17,500,000,000 existed in the United States, $11,192,000,000 in the "British Empire," and $5,500,000,000 in Central Europe. No estimate of world banking power has been made since the beginning of the war period, since the fluctuations in the values of the respective currencies, especially in recent years, render an estimate for the world extremely difficult. Our own total, which has grown from $3,000,000,000 in 1870, $10,685,000,000 in 1903, $20,000,000,000 in 1910, $24,341,000,000 in 1914, and $50,175,000,000 in 1922, now apparently forms about 50 per cent of the world's total.

The London Stock Exchange Gazette in its issue of May 25, 1922, remarks that the resources of the banks of the United States are now "approximately equal to those of all other states combined."

The relative growth of the "banking power" of the United States as

The United States Treasury, Washington, D. C. which is back of the enormous banking power of the United States of big business perhaps as much as 95 per cent of the total business transactions of the country.

"Credit," says a modern writer on this subject, "rests ultimately upon the fact that many persons possess funds who have no present use for it, and are willing that it shall be employed by others. The banks are reservoirs of credit. In these are gathered claims upon the unemployed wealth of the country and through compared with the world is illustrated by the table which follows showing the banking power at intervals since 1870 of the world as a whole and of the United States.

Beautiful Tribute to Mother by Mundy

joices in our happiness and grieves with us in our sorrow.

"With the many duties to perform in our daily lives, many people, especially men, neglect to write to their mothers. It may seem to be a little thing to them, but to her it is quite different. Perhaps she has never told you but she longs for that letter to arrive; because you are her child and her mother love never dies.

"One of the greatest tests of a mother's love was given by King Solomon when he would have divided a baby to settle a dispute of ownership. But alas, a real mother, whose love for her child was so great that she begged the king not to kill it but to give it to the other woman.

"A mother is the one person in the world who will be your most sympathetic confessor. She may not be able to solve your problems; she possibly cannot help you in your difficulty; but if she is a true mother she will do what she can.

"A mother's greatest comfort is in prayer. A praying mother is the holiest benediction God can give a child. Seldom does a person outgrow the little prayers and truths taught at a mother's knee.

"I have worshiped in churches and chapels; I have prayed in the busy streets; I have sought my God and I have found Him

Where the waves of the ocean beat, I have knelt in the silent forests, In the shade of some ancient tree; But the dearest of all my altars Was raised at my mother's knee.

I have listened to God in His temples; I have caught His voice in the Crowd;

I have heard Him speak when the breakers Were booming long and loud, Where the winds play soft in the tree-tops

My Father has talked to me; But I never have heard Him clearer

Than I did at my mother's knee.

The things in my life that are worthy Were born in my mother's breast, And breathed into mine by the magic Of the love her life expressed.

The years that have brought me to manhood

Have not taken her from me; And that has kept me from straying Too far from my mother's knee.

God make me the man of her vision And purge me of selfishness! God keep me true to her standards And help me to live to bless!

God hallow the holy impress Of the days that used to be, And keep me a pilgrim forever.

To the shrine at my mother's knee, "Your mother is the best friend you will ever have. She will stand by you when all others forsake you. You may ignore her and neglect her, but you will never miss her until she is gone."

WINIFRED BLACK
WRITES ABOUT Singing in the Rain

Copyright, 1923, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

IN the Main Street town where I am making a short stay, there is a postman who sings as he delivers the mail. No operative ambition has this old mail carrier, who has been on his post this many a year. He just naturally sings, and the harder it rains, the more the wind blows, the clearer and more cheerily rings out his voice.

It always seems to the women on his route that he sings a little louder when he has a letter for a young girl with a sweetheart, who is for the time away from home. Anyway, the girls run when they hear him coming and he is welcome everywhere.

A character is this man who has traveled many a thousand miles carrying letters. At his home they say he has a beautiful garden and I remember, when the Governor of the State visited the little city last fall, this very letter carrier sent big armfuls of the most beautiful dahlias grown in his own little garden.

The Day Made Happier

The robins sing as naturally as does this man of good cheer. They seem to give happiness and jolly fun when they stand on the branch of a tree and "just holler out their feelin's," as our old nurse from Georgia used to say.

How thankful the world is for every touch of natural joyousness that comes into the shades of care and even of gloom which sometimes hedge it round.

Be it the song of a bird, or of a girl over her embroidery, or the joyous bark of the dog who welcomes his master home, the heart of the listener expands in the moment of hearing and the day is made happier.

Oh, yes, I know there is once in a while a man or woman, poor weary wight, who doesn't enjoy the songs which rise along the way. "Why sing?" they say. "There is nothing so great to sing about. Leave it to the concert and opera, this singing, and I will excuse all the rest."

How much they miss, those sad-faced beings who do not even want to hear the expression of another's happiness.

There's that old nursery rhyme of which they remind me:

Cross patch,
Draw the latch—

We used to sing it after a crabbed man had gone by the school when we were out at play. It seemed to allay our disgust over the sour face and gloomy aspect of the poor man who so heartily despised us as children of no good to the community since we were not at work in his stuffy factory.

A Gay Challenge

What is such a delight to the whole world as spontaneous joy? I love the old Jubilee song of the dark people, reminding of the days of their fathers, for it grew up in the days when songs sprung, like pond lilies, from the depths of subjection:

Oh, I've got to sing,
All along de way,
I've got to sing
Along de way!

It is the brave heart, flinging out its challenge and gay defiance to the world, that sings in the song of the workers and the ones who know the world of pain and defeat.

Come joy, come sorrow, the song still rings out and the listeners take courage as they go. For what one determined soul can bear, the brother or sister soul is inspired to endure patiently and with songs of good cheer.

There goes the mail carrier, in the pouring rain, with his waterproof coat and hat. And here he comes with a song and a smile, and perhaps a letter for me—one I wish for and am thankful to receive.

No, no, he goes—nothing for us today. And he starts his merry song and makes up for the missing of the letter today by the cheerful melody he sings as he goes.

Statistics show that one-half the Automobile accidents are caused by defective vision.

We feel very sorry for these people that go stumbling through life, not knowing but that they see as well as anybody, when they could come to us and we would test their eyes and fit them with glasses at such a small price while our sale is on.
